ADB SAFEGATE and Searidge Technologies announce MOU at World ATM Congress

New innovation acceleration partnership to provide future-proof solutions

ADB SAFEGATE and Searidge Technologies are combining efforts to bring seamless integration between ground operations and the tower with industry leading digital solutions. Working together under a recently determined Memorandum of Understanding, will provide the best offerings for customers.

The MoU will set forth better coordination in the pre-sales, procurement and delivery phases to identify the best technology integration opportunities and offerings for our customers. We look forward to joint innovation, problem-solving and commitment. The teams share a vision for the future that represents a strong strategic fit with technology as the main lever, we look forward to demonstrating what our combined efforts can do for our customers.

"We have seen the undeniable advantage of this partnership for our customers and look forward to bringing more innovation and value to the market with this MoU that solidifies our long-term commitment to working together," said Laurent Dubois, CEO for ADB SAFEGATE.

"As we see more and more collaboration, bringing together airport and ATC technology under the banner of digital transformation will provide the kind of future proofing the industry has lacked over the years," says Moodie Cheikh, CEO and Co-founder of Searidge Technologies. "We are looking forward to bringing our shared philosophies on technology and innovation to our customers."
